Worthing Borough Council Election - Thursday 4th May

THIS TIME IONA!

Hundreds of Tarring residents have already made their choice - this time they want local community champion Iona Harte as their next councillor.

Iona says: "I've knocked on hundreds of Tarring doors in the last few weeks and the message I get every time is that we need a change.

"People have rejected a Tory council which left us with high council tax and low quality services, but they're disappointed that Labour has the wrong priorities. Labour councillors voted to increase their own allowances before they've improved the services our community needs."

Iona lives in Tarring so she'll always be nearby if you need her help. And as a former councillor, she knows the people to call when you need help.

Iona has not waited to be elected before getting stuck into the urgent work the Tories and Labour have left undone.

for Tarring

Community champion Iona goes to work...

Community champion Iona Harte is already at work on the issues which concern us all. Here are just a few of the campaigns she's been working on. And just think how much more effective Iona will be if you elect her as your new councillor.

On the buses: Iona is working with councillor Hazel Thorpe to improve local bus services - especially the number 7. A meeting with bus company bosses hopefully will lead to a better service.

In the park: Iona is a founder member of the Friends of Tarring Park. There were 1,125 responses in a public consultation which led to the kid's playground getting new equipment.

Hunt the hole: Iona and Hazel have been walking the streets looking for potholes. Potholes are dangerous for drivers and cyclists and Iona is pressing for a faster repair service.

Don't bank on it: That's because so many banks have shut their doors just at a time when people need to manage their cash more tightly. Iona and the Lib Dems are campaigning for banking hubs in Worthing.

Home sweet home: Iona is pressing for a change to Worthing's house building policy. "We need more affordable homes for local people," she says. Housing targets should be based on need, not based house prices.

The Big Stink

Iona Harte has been kicking up a stink about the big stink. In the past three years, Southern Water has spent more than half a million hours pouring raw sewage into local rivers and the sea.

Iona backed the Liberal Democrat team who won the campaign to stop public money going to water company polluters.

Pity that the Local Conservative MP voted in parliament to allow the polluters to carry on for another 15 years.

But you can do something about that.

When you vote for Iona, you'll be sending a message - loud and clear - that the big stink has got to stop.

Easter Giveaway

It was the Big Egg Giveaway in the church just before Easter. On hand to roll out the eggs to chocolate-hunting kids were volunteers from Lindern Pre-School as well as popular councillor Hazel Thorpe and Liberal Democrat candidate Iona Harte. Iona says: "The volunteers gave away more than 170 eggs and soft toys whilst raising money for the Mayor's charities."

What's up, doc?

Having trouble getting a timely appointment with your GP? Join the queue. Since 2016, the number of patients each fully qualified West Sussex GP has to look after has risen by 310.

Iona says: "Don't blame your hard working GP. Successive health ministers have starved the NHS of funds. We need an urgent recruitment campaign for more GPs - and we need it now."
